The Judgeship.

We are informed that Judge Brown has announced himself as an independent candidate for election to the office he now holds by appointment. There is already one candidate in the field for that office— we refer to Hon. J. L. McDonald of Shakopee, who comes before the people upon the nomination of a packed convention, which he has industriously worked for, for the last four months or more. We presume that there will be another candidate before election, certainly if Hon. L. L. Baxter yields to the urgent request made to him by a large number of the prominent men of both parties in this district; he will go before the people again. At the Gleason Recitation says lively times in prospect.

The Robbers Captured.

Telegrams last Friday announced the gratifying fact, that the brave people of Madelia, near Mankato, had overtaken and captured four of the Younger band of robbers; and during the fight killed one and wounded the other three. It occasioned the greatest rejoicing throughout the State. Full particulars of the fight and capture will be found on second page.

Omitted.

We inadvertently omitted to place the name of Judge E. T. Wilder, Democratic candidate for Congress at the head of our column last week; we supply the omission in this issue, with the bare statement that mistakes will happen in the best of regulated families."

Read Judge Wilder's letter of acceptance published in this issue. It is sound and worthy of careful perusal.

The call for the Republican County Convention appears in another column.

The convention is called to meet at Watertown on Tuesday Oct. 10th.

Judge Wilder will address the citizens of Young America and vicinity on Friday evening, Sept. 29th. It is to be hoped that he will have a good house. He is said to be a good speaker.

Major Straub has commenced to canvass the district, and will do some talk work, as he is well posted and knows how.

We hope our German readers will appreciate our efforts in giving them an extra sheet, containing all county news. It entails much expense and we should receive a hearty support in order to insure its permanency.

The Republican stamp orators in Indiana hope to be able to talk the people to death, and then carry the State all by themselves.

The Louisville Courier-Journal alleges that R. B. Hayes never paid any income tax. The N. Y. Times finds fault with Samuel J. Tilden because he paid tax upon an average income of only $15,000.

NUMBER 6.

Letter of Acceptance of Judge

E. T. Wilder.

Rtn. Wins, Se, 16, 1876.

Messrs. Smith, Betcher and Scholler, Committee, &c.:

GENTLEMEN:—It is known to some, if not to all of you, that during the twenty years of my residence in Minnesota I have never been nor sought to be a candidate for any political position. My tastes and habits of thought have little in harmony with political life. Against my own wishes, but desiring to what may not improperly be characterized as the imperfections of friends, and concurring in the very general conviction that the country at this day demands for places of public trust others than mere politicians, I consented that my name might be presented to your convention as a candidate for Congress from this District. Though I can but regret, I accept the result, and will, as best I may, co-operate with the District and State committees in the labor of the campaign. In doing this I shall hope at all times to bear in mind the fact that the great body of the people, Republicans as well as Democrats, are alive to the necessity of a thorough reform in all the departments of the government, and especially touching the questions of finance and economy—of official honesty and integrity.

Among the people as contrasted distinguished from professed politicians, the prominent question is, "What are the best and most effective means of securing an honest and economical administration of the government, and an early return to health and stability in the various departments of business?"

There is, and I suppose always will be, a class of restless and uneasy spirits who thrive only in the midst of turmoil and strife. Some must shake the bloody shirt, and move Heaven and earth, if it were possible, to keep sleeplessly active the worst passions of our common nature. On the other hand there are those who can do no less than persistently proclaim their devotion to the ghosts of secession and of slavery; but thanks to the "other second thought" of the people, those classes are rapidly diminishing, both in numbers and influence. By the results of the war secession was crushed and slavery extinguished. With them, and in the same grave, the best and most honest of family flour, either by the pound or sack. A 10 cent meal.
